

Indiana has led the states to protect its citizens against unwanted solicitations via telephone and its value cannot be underestimated. I pay a monthly fee for my private telephone and it is outrageous that solicitors believe they "have the right" to use that telephone line for their business purposes. Until they start paying for my telephone services, they have no argument - period. Thank you for this forum.